Quest Diagnostics Selects NeTLIMS LIS Solution

NeTLIMS NJ, LLC, a provider of laboratory information systems (LIS), announced Feb. 19 that Quest Diagnostics has selected its integrated product suite, AutoLims, to power Quest Diagnostics' international laboratories operations in India.

After an extensive research and selection process that encompassed many LIS solutions in the marketplace, Quest Diagnostics signed an agreement licensing AutoLims, NeTLIMS' flagship product. According to NeTLIMS, the AutoLims suite "maximizes clinical laboratory productivity, efficiency and profitability through technological excellence."

"We were very honored to have been chosen by Quest Diagnostics after such an exhaustive selection process," said Gonen Ziv, COO of NeTLIMS. "We knew we had one of the most comprehensive and intuitive laboratory information systems in the world. It is gratifying to have a company with Quest Diagnostics' reputation substantiate our product's capabilities."
